ANTIPODES

'If there is magic on this planet, it is contained in water.'
Loren Eiseley

20th Anniversary | A water conceived for the dining table.

New Zealand's deepest high quality water source beneath the earth's surface at a depth of 327m, Antipodes has been naturally protected underground for 50-300 years in an artesian aquifer composed of silica rich ignimbrite rock and filtered through it, so no chemical cleaning, processing or sterilisation is needed. With much of this minerality composed of silica, great for regenerations of bones, hair and tissue, Antipodes offers almost imperceptible flavour and a gentle, silky texture on the palate.

Antipodes complements the finest table settings and the finest food and wine, without affecting the taste, with cool, clean simplicity.

Antipodes was the world's first and is still the only mineral water to be carbon Zero certified by Toitū Envirocare. Antipodes is bottled to order. The aquifer replenishes at a far greater rate than the water could ever be taken. All production energy is from 100% renewable sources: geothermal, wind and hydroelectric.
